

DUKE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW ACADEMIC YEAR
SPEAKER COPYRIGHT RELEASE FORM

It is the law school's policy to disseminate and preserve presentations at events sponsored by the school and affiliated organizations. This form is intended to streamline the process by which Duke Law School faculty and staff give their permission to be recorded for such events throughout an academic year. Faculty and staff who sign this release can still refuse their permission in writing on a case-by-case basis.

Events are usually recorded; some events may be broadcast live via the Internet ("webcast") or by other means. Recordings of events will normally be catalogued, made available for viewing through the law library, and indexed in the library's public catalog. The recordings, or excerpts from them, including derivative works, may also be used for other purposes, including but not limited to the development of educational or other video products. The recordings may be reproduced in copies or in derivative works, and may be distributed, performed or displayed as required or necessary for such purposes.

Statement of Release

This speaking commitment and copyright release applies to the participation of _____ as a contributor to all events at the Duke University School of Law for the academic year beginning July 1, 2011 and ending June 30, 2012.

Contributor's presentation may be a contribution to a collective work, as defined in 17 U.S.C. 101 and 201c. As such the Duke University School of Law has the right to reproduce and distribute your contribution as part of the collective work.

Contributor grants to the Duke University School of Law a non-exclusive license to:

- a. transfer or grant sub-licenses to others so that the presentation may be broadcast, edited, reproduced on audio tape, video tape, or other media.
- b. reproduce or distribute such contributions or presentations for sale, archival or other purposes.

Subject to rights granted to the Duke University School of Law in this release, contributor retains all other rights to his or her work and presentation. Should contributor publish or give permission to publish this presentation at a later date, however, he or she shall indicate that the work was produced as part of that specific event in which it was presented.

Signature _____ Date _____