

DUKE LAW SCHOOL

BUILDING FORWARD

2013-2014

Created by Krystal Lynch
Office of Development
Donor Relations

CONTENTS

IN THE WORDS OF... →

Students

“Duke Law School has been the best educational experience of my life, and I am immensely grateful for my time here.”

— Christine Kearsley J.D.'14

“Duke has met and exceeded my expectations. The small class size and close-knit community feel let me get to know and appreciate the excellence of my classmates and professors. The staff... has helped me with every step of my legal career.”

— T.G. Falcon, current student

“This is an institution that cares about its students. Duke Law is among a very small cohort of law schools that allows its students to pursue dual master's degrees in law in foreign jurisdictions. I am really interested in working on all kinds of international projects so adding a master's degree seemed like the perfect complement to my legal studies—something that I would be able to do only at Duke.”

— Sophia Carter, current student

&

“We want to excel in everything we do at Duke Law School: bringing in the very best students, providing a challenging and transformative classroom experience, doing influential scholarship, placing students in law firms, public interest, and clerkships, and serving the community. It's all very expensive, and the support we receive from donors is critical to our success. It's certainly been true for me. The support I have received from donors permitted me to hire more student research assistants, bring in extra guest speakers, and attend conferences. But I am a donor too. I have pledged to the faculty initiative to support student aid. Private giving is the lifeblood of the Law School.”

— Sara Sun Beale, Charles L.B. Lowndes
Professor of Law

“Duke's place among the nation's best law schools would not be possible without the generous support of its friends and alums. And beyond the tangible benefits of their financial assistance, it's tremendously encouraging to those of us studying and working here to know that there are so many others who share our goals and support our efforts.”

— Lawrence Zelenak, Pamela B. Gann
Professor of Law

Faculty

2013–2014 SYMPOSIUMS, LECTURES, & TALKS

4.12.14 AMATEURISM AND COLLEGE ATHLETICS

3.27.14 ANNUAL FREY LECTURE IN INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY: INFRINGEMENT 2.0

1.13.14 LIVES IN THE LAW: LARRY THOMPSON, EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT OF PEPSICO

11.22.13 NEW APPROACHES AND INCENTIVES IN DRUG DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCE

11.7.13 SLAVERY: BEYOND THE PURE PROPERTY PARADIGM

10.29.13 SOMETHING TO HIDE: NEW TECHNOLOGY, DRAGNET SURVEILLANCE, AND THE FUTURE OF PRIVACY

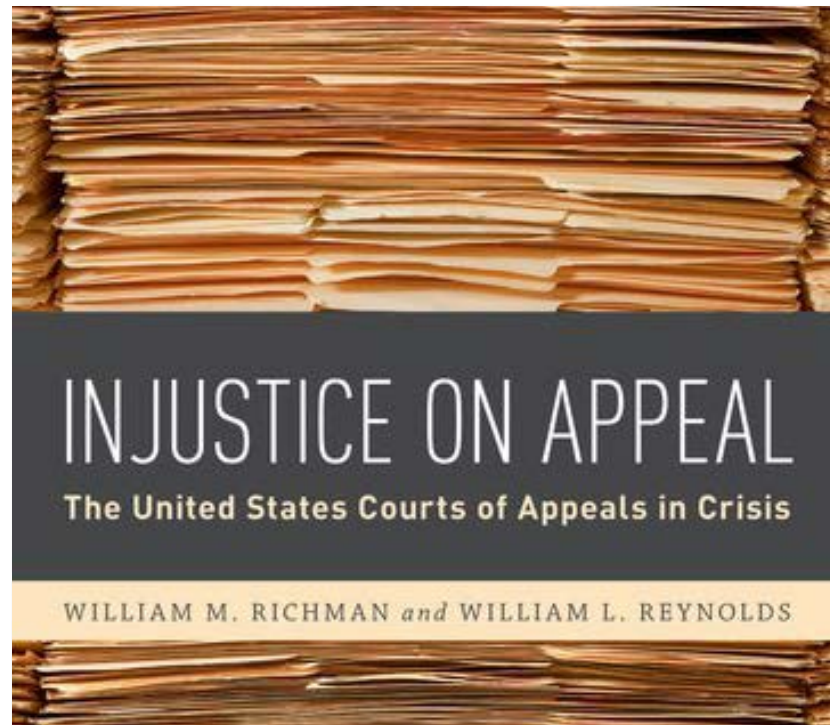

9.2.13 THE SHIFTING LANDSCAPE: CIVIL RIGHTS AND THE LAW OVER THE LAST 50 YEARS

CENTER FOR JUDICIAL STUDIES

MASTER'S OF JUDICIAL STUDIES PROGRAM: THE JUDGES' ROUNDTABLE

BOOK REVIEW BY DUKE LAW ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR MARIN LEVY

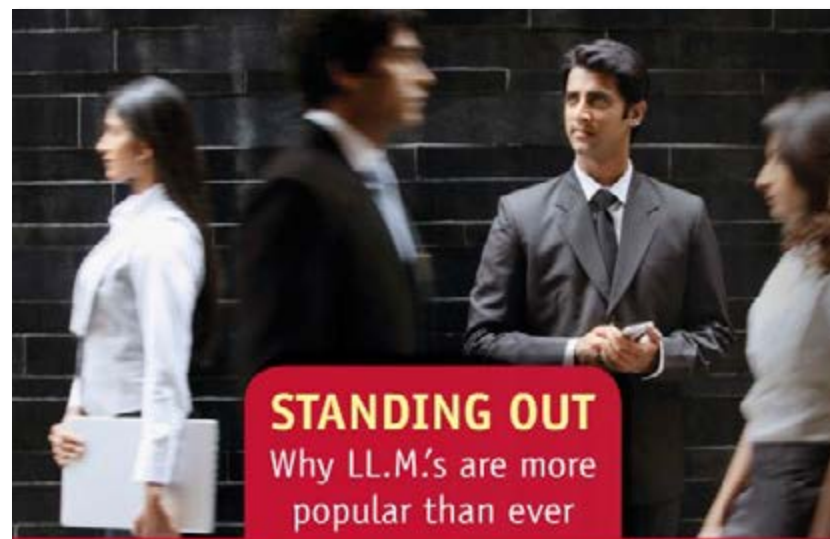

"THE BEST JUDGE YOU NEVER HEARD OF" BY JUDGE PAUL W. GRIMM

JUSTICE EVA GUZMAN ON DISSENTING JUDGES IN THE JUDICIAL PROCESS

THE DUKE CONFERENCE: PATENT LAW INSTITUTE

STANDING OUT
Why LL.M.'s are more popular than ever

Specialization, a need to stand out and financial issues are driving law schools to start graduate law degrees

By Owen Prasklevicz

When Duke University School of Law seeks responses," said Paul Hagen, a professor at Duke

MASTER THE U.S. LEGAL SYSTEM

Apply now to earn a Master of Laws Degree in United States Legal Studies from Texas Tech University School of Law

This two-semester program is designed to give graduates of foreign law schools an introduction to U.S. law and the U.S. legal system.

DUKE LAW PROFESSORS ON THE SPECIALIZATION OF LEGAL DEGREES

JUSTICE PATRICIA TIMMONS-GOODSON'S REMARKS AT DUKE LAW 2014 GRADUATION