FRIDAY, AUGUST 20

Nuts & Bolts

Breakfast on your own

Second day of class

Your second Legal Research, Analysis & Writing class will take place at either 9:30 a.m. or 11 a.m.

Faculty Field Trips

Explore the Triangle with your classmates and get to know your new professors. All new students are invited to participate in one of several off-campus activities hosted by faculty and administrators, ranging from a tour of Raleigh’s Central Prison to canoeing on the Eno River. Registration for these optional activities will take place throughout the week in the Blue Lounge.

EVENTS OF INTEREST

Around Campus

WEDNESDAY

August 18
5-8 p.m.
Gross Chemistry Portico

GPSC Family Fun Fair

The Graduate and Professional Student Council hosts its first Family Fun Fair with games and activities for adults and children alike.

THURSDAY

August 19
4 p.m.
Duke Chapel

Grad./Prof. Student Convocation

Participate in the formal beginning of your Law School education with this official University ceremony. New University President Richard Brodhead will deliver the address.

FRIDAY

August 27 noon
Law School Courtyard and Blue Lounge

DBA Activities Fair

The Duke Bar Association proudly presents its annual Activities Fair. All student clubs and groups will have representatives present to speak with students about the mission and membership of each club. Snacks and beverages will be provided.
MONDAY, AUGUST 16

Law & Leadership

8:30 A.M.

Registration
Meet your new classmates over coffee and pastries. Students with last names beginning A-L, register between 8:30-9 a.m.; with last names beginning with M-Z, register between 9-9:30 a.m.

9:30 A.M.

Deans’ Welcome
Dean Katharine Bartlett welcomes you to the Law School, and Associate Dean for Admissions and Financial Aid Dennis Shields describes the defining characteristics of the Class of 2007.

10 A.M.

Duke Blueprint to LEAD
Assistant Dean for Student Affairs Jill Miller introduces you to the Duke Blueprint and moderates a panel featuring some of the Law School’s outstanding student leaders. “Meet” your Duke Bar Association leaders in a behind-the-scenes video.

10:50 A.M.

Break

11 A.M.

Keynote Address I: Jay Bilas ’92
“Leadership On the Court, In the Classroom, and In the Courtroom.” ESPN analyst, Duke Law School graduate and former Duke basketball star Jay Bilas ’92 shares his thoughts on leadership at Duke and beyond.

NOON

Carolina-Style Barbecue Lunch
Meet your orientation groups for lunch on the covered patio outside the Gross Chemistry building. Look for the colored balloons matching your cluster color assignment. (You will receive your cluster assignment in the orientation materials you receive at registration.)

THURSDAY, AUGUST 19

Nuts & Bolts

All Day

Computer Training
Director of Computing Services Ken Hirsh and his staff help you configure your notebook computer to work with the Law School network. You will receive your training session assignment in the orientation materials you receive at registration. You will be assigned one of the following sessions:
- 8:30-11 a.m.
- Noon-2:30 p.m.
- 3-5:30 p.m.

10 A.M.

Student Directory Photo Shoot
From 10 a.m.-2 p.m. photographers will take pictures for the directory that will be distributed to your classmates, professors and potential employers. Business attire is required from the waist-up. You should plan to have your picture taken when you are not at computer training or in your first class.

3-5 P.M.

Transfer Student Orientation
The Offices of Student Affairs and Career Services will answer questions about class registration, degree requirements, journal participation, and on-campus recruiting for our second year transfer students. Afterward, all transfer students are invited to dinner with the OSA and OCS staffs at a local favorite restaurant.
9:30 A.M.
Serving the Community
Every year, Duke Law School students contribute their legal skills to public interest organizations throughout the city, state, and across the globe. Associate Dean for Public Interest and Pro Bono Carol Spruill introduces you to the professional service opportunities available and moderates a panel of students who will describe their pro bono activities and explain how you can get involved.

10:45 A.M.
LSAC Educational Diversity Project
Students will have the opportunity to participate in a voluntary Law School Admission Council study investigating the meaning and importance of diversity in legal education.

11:15 A.M.
Keynote Address III: 18 Lost Years
Darryl Hunt was convicted of a rape he didn’t commit and served 18 years in North Carolina prisons before he was released in 2003 based on new DNA evidence. Mr. Hunt and his attorney, Mark Rabil, share this incredible story of perseverance and their efforts to prevent similar legal tragedies from befalling other innocent defendants.

1 P.M.
Dedicated to Durham
Work with fellow students, faculty, and administrators during the Law School’s most popular community service event. Lunch will be provided to all participants, who will then divide into work groups and head to several Durham sites. Get to know your classmates and impress them with your gardening, painting, and cleaning skills, while helping some worthy organizations in your new hometown.

5 P.M.
Dedicated to Durham Post-Party
Celebrate a job well done with burgers and beverages at this School-wide event.

1 P.M.
Orientation Group Q&A
Where should I buy my books? What is the best restaurant in Durham? What study aids do I need? Get the answers to these and other burning questions from your 2L and 3L orientation leaders.

2 P.M.
A Well-Paved Path: Duke Alumni
Associate Dean for Alumni and Development Tom Hadzor and Assistant Dean for Career Services Bruce Elvin ’93 lead a panel discussing career and leadership opportunities for Duke Law School alumni. Panelists include Duke Law School Board of Visitors Chair Peter Kahn ’76, former President of the North Carolina Bar Association James Maxwell ’66, and Assistant District Attorney for Durham County Kendra Montgomery-Blinn ’03.

3 P.M.
Life at Duke Law School
The Office of Student Affairs will assist and advise from orientation to graduation. Meet the OSA staff – Dean Miller, Director of Academic Advising Chris McLaughlin ’96, Director of Student Activities John Spencer, and Student Affairs Coordinator Shanda King T’01 – and learn more about life at Duke in the classroom and out.

4 P.M.
Campus Tour
Explore the most beautiful campus on the East Coast with your orientation groups. From the Chapel to Cameron Indoor Stadium, this optional tour introduces you to Duke’s many offerings. Students who have not previously purchased their DukeCards should be sure to stop at the DukeCard office in the West Union Building.

7 P.M.
Duke Gardens Reception
Mingle with faculty members over cocktails and hors d’oeuvres at this reception in the Sarah P. Duke Gardens’ Doris Duke Center. Business casual or semi-formal attire is recommended.
TUESDAY, AUGUST 17

Ethics & Professionalism

Breakfast on your own

9 A.M.
Keynote Address II: An Ethical Challenge
Gross Chemistry Room 107
Dr. Elizabeth Kiss, Director of the University’s Kenan Institute for Ethics, challenges you to reflect on the values you bring to and will develop through your legal education. The Kenan Institute is a University-wide initiative that supports the study and teaching of ethics and promotes moral reflection and commitment in personal, professional, and civic life.

9:45 A.M.
Class Simulation
Gross Chemistry Room 107
Professor Doriane Coleman steers you through a mock class involving an actual case. Prepare for this session as you would for any other class, as Professor Coleman will be calling on students to participate in the discussion. The reading assignment will be included in your Orientation materials.

10:45 A.M.
The 21st Century Classroom
Gross Chemistry Room 107
Representatives from the Law Library, Computing Services, and Educational Technologies introduce you to the research and technical services available to students and provide some tips for professional communication and the effective use of computers in class.

11 A.M.
Break

11:15 A.M.
Ethics Breakout Session I
Locations TBA
Your orientation group will participate in one of the following activities (your personal assignment will be included in the orientation materials you will receive at registration):

- Video Ethics & Case Discussion: Explore personal and professional ethical dilemmas.
- Where Do You Draw the Line? An interactive simulation tests your ethical boundaries.

12:30 P.M.
Lunch
Law School Courtyard
Grab a sandwich and head outside to engage your new classmates and upperclass students in informal discussions about the morning’s topics.

1:30 P.M.
Ethics Breakout Session II
Locations TBA
Your orientation group will participate in the remaining ethics breakout activity:

- Video Ethics & Case Discussion: Explore personal and professional ethical dilemmas.
- Where Do You Draw the Line? An interactive simulation tests your ethical boundaries.

2:45 P.M.
The Honor Code
Gross Chemistry Room 107
Dean Miller and Director McLaughlin will discuss the Duke Law School Honor Code and related rules, and University Director of Harassment Prevention Cynthia Clinton will explain University policies and the climate of respect across campus. Members of the Law School’s Student Advocacy Panel will provide an overview of the student-led enforcement procedures.

3:30 P.M.
Transeo Orbis (Jumping through Hoops)
Location TBA
Throw on your sweats, and join your orientation group teammates for a fun-filled course that will test your will and skill while teaching you about the ups-and-downs of life as a 1L.
TUESDAY, AUGUST 17

Ethics & Professionalism

Breakfast on your own

9 A.M.
Keynote Address II: An Ethical Challenge
Gross Chemistry Room 107

Dr. Elizabeth Kiss, Director of the University's Kenan Institute for Ethics, challenges you to reflect on the values you bring to and will develop through your legal education. The Kenan Institute is a University-wide initiative that supports the study and teaching of ethics and promotes moral reflection and commitment in personal, professional, and civic life.

9:45 A.M.
Class Simulation
Gross Chemistry Room 107

Professor Doriane Coleman steers you through a mock class involving an actual case. Prepare for this session as you would for any other class, as Professor Coleman will be calling on students to participate in the discussion. The reading assignment will be included in your Orientation materials.

10:45 A.M.
The 21st Century Classroom
Gross Chemistry Room 107

Representatives from the Law Library, Computing Services, and Educational Technologies introduce you to the research and technical services available to students and provide some tips for professional communication and the effective use of computers in class.

11 A.M.
Break

11:15 A.M.
Ethics Breakout Session I
Locations TBA

Your orientation group will participate in one of the following activities (your personal assignment will be included in the orientation materials you will receive at registration):

- Video Ethics & Case Discussion: Explore personal and professional ethical dilemmas.
- Where Do You Draw the Line? An interactive simulation tests your ethical boundaries.

12:30 P.M.
Lunch
Law School Courtyard

Grab a sandwich and head outside to engage your new classmates and upperclass students in informal discussions about the morning's topics.

1:30 P.M.
Ethics Breakout Session II
Locations TBA

Your orientation group will participate in the remaining ethics breakout activity:

- Video Ethics & Case Discussion: Explore personal and professional ethical dilemmas.
- Where Do You Draw the Line? An interactive simulation tests your ethical boundaries.

2:45 P.M.
The Honor Code
Gross Chemistry Room 107

Dean Miller and Director McLaughlin will discuss the Duke Law School Honor Code and related rules, and University Director of Harassment Prevention Cynthia Clinton will explain University policies and the climate of respect across campus. Members of the Law School’s Student Advocacy Panel will provide an overview of the student-led enforcement procedures.

3:30 P.M.
Transeo Orbis (Jumping through Hoops)
Location TBA

Throw on your sweats, and join your orientation group teammates for a fun-filled course that will test your will and skill while teaching you about the ups-and-downs of life as a 1L.
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 18

Pro Bono & Public Service

9:30 A.M. Serving the Community
- Gross Chemistry Room 107
- Every year, Duke Law School students contribute their legal skills to public interest organizations throughout the city, state, and across the globe. Associate Dean for Public Interest and Pro Bono Carol Spruill introduces you to the professional service opportunities available and moderates a panel of students who will describe their pro bono activities and explain how you can get involved.

10:45 A.M. LSAC Educational Diversity Project
- Gross Chemistry Room 107
- Students will have the opportunity to participate in a voluntary Law School Admission Council study investigating the meaning and importance of diversity in legal education.

11 A.M. Break

11:15 A.M. Keynote Address III: 18 Lost Years
- Gross Chemistry Room 107
- Darryl Hunt was convicted of a rape he didn’t commit and served 18 years in North Carolina prisons before he was released in 2003 based on new DNA evidence. Mr. Hunt and his attorney, Mark Rabil, share this incredible story of perseverance and their efforts to prevent similar legal tragedies from befalling other innocent defendants.

1 P.M. Dedicated to Durham
- Law School Courtyard
- Work with fellow students, faculty, and administrators during the Law School’s most popular community service event. Lunch will be provided to all participants, who will then divide into work groups and head to several Durham sites. Get to know your classmates and impress them with your gardening, painting, and cleaning skills, while helping some worthy organizations in your new hometown.

5 P.M. Dedicated to Durham Post-Party
- Law School Courtyard
- Celebrate a job well done with burgers and beverages at this School-wide event.

MONDAY, AUGUST 16

Law & Leadership

1 P.M. Orientation Group Q&A
- Gross Chemistry Portico
- Where should I buy my books? What is the best restaurant in Durham? What study aids do I need? Get the answers to these and other burning questions from your 2L and 3L orientation leaders.

2 P.M. A Well-Paved Path: Duke Alumni
- Gross Chemistry Room 107
- Associate Dean for Alumni and Development Tom Hadzor and Assistant Dean for Career Services Bruce Elvin ’93 lead a panel discussing career and leadership opportunities for Duke Law School alumni. Panelists include Duke Law School Board of Visitors Chair Peter Kahn ’76, former President of the North Carolina Bar Association James Maxwell ’66, and Assistant District Attorney for Durham County Kendra Montgomery-Blinn ’03.

3 P.M. Life at Duke Law School
- Gross Chemistry Room 107
- The Office of Student Affairs will assist and advise from orientation to graduation. Meet the OSA staff – Dean Miller, Director of Academic Advising Chris McLaughlin ’96, Director of Student Activities John Spencer, and Student Affairs Coordinator Shanda King T’01 – and learn more about life at Duke in the classroom and out.

4 P.M. Campus Tour
- Locations TBA
- Explore the most beautiful campus on the East Coast with your orientation groups. From the Chapel to Cameron Indoor Stadium, this optional tour introduces you to Duke’s many offerings. Students who have not previously purchased their DukeCards should be sure to stop at the DukeCard office in the West Union Building.

7 P.M. Duke Gardens Reception
- Doris Duke Center Sarah P. Duke Gardens
- Mingle with faculty members over cocktails and hors d’oeuvres at this reception in the Sarah P. Duke Gardens’ Doris Duke Center. Business casual or semi-formal attire is recommended.
MONDAY, AUGUST 16

Law & Leadership

8:30 A.M.

Registration

Meet your new classmates over coffee and pastries. Students with last names beginning A-L, register between 8:30-9 a.m.; with last names beginning with M-Z, register between 9-9:30 a.m.

9:30 A.M.

Deans’ Welcome

Dean Katharine Bartlett welcomes you to the Law School, and Associate Dean for Admissions and Financial Aid Dennis Shields describes the defining characteristics of the Class of 2007.

10 A.M.

Duke Blueprint to LEAD

Assistant Dean for Student Affairs Jill Miller introduces you to the Duke Blueprint and moderates a panel featuring some of the Law School’s outstanding student leaders. “Meet” your Duke Bar Association leaders in a behind-the-scenes video.

10:50 A.M.

Break

11 A.M.

Keynote Address I: Jay Bilas ’92

“Leadership On the Court, In the Classroom, and In the Courtroom.” ESPN analyst, Duke Law School graduate and former Duke basketball star Jay Bilas ’92 shares his thoughts on leadership at Duke and beyond.

NOON

Carolina-Style Barbecue Lunch

Meet your orientation groups for lunch on the covered patio outside the Gross Chemistry building. Look for the colored balloons matching your cluster color assignment. (You will receive your cluster assignment in the orientation materials you receive at registration.)

---

THURSDAY, AUGUST 19

Nuts & Bolts

ALL DAY

Computer Training

Director of Computing Services Ken Hirsh and his staff help you configure your notebook computer to work with the Law School network. You will receive your training session assignment in the orientation materials you receive at registration. You will be assigned one of the following sessions:

- 8:30-11 a.m.
- Noon-2:30 p.m.
- 3-5:30 p.m.

10/NOON

Welcome to your first Legal Research, Analysis & Writing class. You will receive your class section assignment in the orientation materials you receive at registration. You will attend one class at either 10 a.m. or noon.

10 A.M.

Student Directory Photo Shoot

From 10 a.m.-2 p.m. photographers will take pictures for the directory that will be distributed to your classmates, professors and potential employers. Business attire is required from the waist-up. You should plan to have your picture taken when you are not at computer training or in your first class.

3-5 P.M.

Transfer Student Orientation

The Offices of Student Affairs and Career Services will answer questions about class registration, degree requirements, journal participation, and on-campus recruiting for our second year transfer students. Afterward, all transfer students are invited to dinner with the OSA and OCS staffs at a local favorite restaurant.
FRIDAY, AUGUST 20

Nuts & Bolts

Breakfast on your own

Second day of class

Your second Legal Research, Analysis & Writing class will take place at either 9:30 a.m. or 11 a.m.

Faculty Field Trips

Explore the Triangle with your classmates and get to know your new professors. All new students are invited to participate in one of several off-campus activities hosted by faculty and administrators, ranging from a tour of Raleigh’s Central Prison to canoeing on the Eno River. Registration for these optional activities will take place throughout the week in the Blue Lounge.

EVENTS OF INTEREST

Around Campus

WEDNESDAY

August 18
5-8 p.m.
Gross Chemistry Portico

GPSC Family Fun Fair

The Graduate and Professional Student Council hosts its first Family Fun Fair with games and activities for adults and children alike.

THURSDAY

August 19
4 p.m.
Duke Chapel

Grad./Prof. Student Convocation

Participate in the formal beginning of your Law School education with this official University ceremony. New University President Richard Brodhead will deliver the address.

FRIDAY

August 27 noon
Law School Courtyard and Blue Lounge

DBA Activities Fair

The Duke Bar Association proudly presents its annual Activities Fair. All student clubs and groups will have representatives present to speak with students about the mission and membership of each club. Snacks and beverages will be provided.