Instructions for Duke Law Office 365 users: the Move
See also http://law.duke.edu/actech/office365faq

What will happen?

- At some time on Wednesday, March 5, but probably in the morning, your Exchange mailbox and its contents will migrate to Office 365. At this point, you should begin using your Office 365 mailbox to send and receive mail; your new mail will be delivered to Office 365 and you will no longer be able to log into your Duke Exchange account.

- There may be a period of time after email has been routed to your mailbox in the cloud but before you are able to log in. We suggest a short break of 10 to 15 minutes from your email after you are asked about redirecting or restarting Outlook.

- Those who access shared mailboxes: shared mailboxes may move before or after your own. When you are asked to allow a new autodiscovery server or to log in again, note which account has been moved. Some users have experienced issues with regaining access to shared mailboxes. You may need to allow autodiscovery or restart and log in several times. If you are not able to restart Outlook and log in successfully to a shared mailbox, cancel out of the process and you can continue working with your own email. If, after one hour, you restart Outlook and are still unable to log in to the shared mailbox, please let the helpdesk know. Even if you experience difficulties with Outlook, you may be able to use Outlook Web App (OWA) to access the shared account; see below.

Do I need to do anything?

- Yes, users generally will need to quit out of Outlook and log back in.

- Mobile devices and some email clients will need to be reconfigured.

- As a precaution, we recommend that Outlook calendar users print out their day’s calendar before 8:30am on Wednesday.

How do I get support?

- The Law School Helpdesk: If you have any questions, please contact the Law School Helpdesk helpdesk@law.duke.edu or (919) 613-7072.
• During regular hours on Wednesday, we will also have a staffed table specifically for help with mobile devices in the Blue Lounge. We plan also to staff the table on Thursday and Friday, depending on need. If you do not find us in the Blue Lounge, please see the help desk in the law library. Faculty members can also request assistance by calling the helpdesk.

Web access to your email:

- You will now access email via the Office 365 Outlook Web App from http://mail.duke.edu. Log on by using your NetID and NetID password.
- To access a shared mailbox, on your name at the upper right of the OWA window. Select the option to Open another mailbox. Type the name of the shared mailbox; you may need to search the directory for it. When the shared mailbox is displayed, highlight it or select it and then click Open. You should now be viewing the shared mailbox.

Forwarding to another email system like Gmail:

- Email forwarding should continue without any change required.
- If you find that email forwarding is not working, please see this article for more information: https://duke.service-now.com/nav_to.do?uri=kb_view.do?sysparm_article=KB0015771.

Using an email client:

- Outlook 2010 & Outlook 2013 for Windows: Exchange should automatically reconfigure Outlook, but you will need to log in again.
  - When your migration is complete, Outlook will display a message notifying you to close and restart Outlook.
  - Restarting Outlook will reconfigure the client automatically.
  - When Outlook restarts, log on using NetID@duke.edu and your NetID password. (Note: substitute your own NetID above. Thus John Q. A. Public with a netid of jqap101 would log in as jqap101@duke.edu.)

- Outlook 2011 for Mac: Exchange should automatically reconfigure Outlook, but you will need to log in again. When your migration is complete, a message may display asking you to allow “autodiscover-s.outlook.com” to update your settings.
  - Click “allow.” We recommend restarting Outlook.
  - When Outlook restarts, log on using NetID@duke.edu and your NetID password. (Note: substitute your own NetID above. Thus Thus John Q. A. Public with a netid of jqap101 would log in as jqap101@duke.edu.)
• Mac Mail / iCal / Mac Calendar: You will need to set up a new Exchange account. Visit http://mail.duke.edu and click on “Steps to take after migrating to Office 365.”
