Kerry Abrams became the James B. Duke and Benjamin N. Duke Dean of the School of Law and professor of law on July 1, 2018. She is the 15th dean of Duke Law School. A scholar of immigration, citizenship, family, and constitutional law, Dean Abrams is well-known for her scholarly writing on family-based migration, the legal regulation of immigrant families, and the history of immigration law. Prior to her appointment at Duke Law, Dean Abrams served on the law faculty of the University of Virginia for thirteen years, and, more recently, as vice provost for faculty affairs. She is a graduate of Swarthmore College, where she earned a BA in English literature with highest honors, and she graduated with distinction from Stanford Law School, where she was president of the Moot Court Board and the co-chair of Women of Stanford Law. Following law school, she clerked for Judge Stanwood R. Duval, Jr., of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana and practiced as a commercial litigator for several years at the New York City law firm of Patterson, Belknap, Webb & Tyler LLP.

Maddy Mumma '20, T '16 is a Durham native and graduated from Duke University with a degree in psychology and global health. At Duke Law, she served as the Duke Bar Association president, the executive director of the Duke Law Innocence Project, the vice president of the Government and Public Interest Society, a lead articles editor for Law & Contemporary Problems, a research assistant for the Wilson Center for Science and Justice, and a member of Duke Law Mock Trial. She graduated Duke Law with a Certificate in Public Interest and Public Service Law. After graduation, she served a one-year term as a law clerk for the Honorable Judge Robin L. Rosenberg '89 on the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida. She currently serves as a law clerk for the Honorable Gregory A. Phillips on the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Nita Farahany JD/MA '04, PhD '06, the Robinson O. Everett Professor of Law and professor of philosophy, is a leading scholar on the ethical, legal, and social implications of emerging technologies, including artificial intelligence (AI). The founding director of Duke Science & Society, Farahany is also the chair of the Duke MA in Bioethics & Science Policy and director of the Science, Law & Policy Lab (SLAPLAB). Farahany is a frequent commentator for national media and radio shows. She presents her work to diverse audiences including the World Economic Forum, Aspen Ideas Festival, TED, Judicial Conferences for the U.S. Court of Appeals, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, National Academies of Science Workshops, the American Society for Political and Legal Philosophy, and by testifying before Congress. In 2010, she was appointed by President Obama to the Presidential Commission for the Study of Bioethical Issues and served until 2017.
